Knowledge Is Power

Good Morning,

We are living in the fast age. Fast food, fast cars, fast diet plans--the list is endless!

It may be reassuring to know you have a place to get fast information on truss components, engineered wood, and related items. Where can you go? Log on to our new and revamped website at www.cascade-mfg-co.com.

The website has been thoroughly revised and we think you'll like what you see. The site is designed for getting information to you in a fast and concise format. A left-side menu allows you to select what you want to find. Within these sections are links for additional information. You can also email your bid requests from these areas.

News about Cascade Mfg Co is provided in addition to archived files of past newsletters.

Finally, a direct link is available from the Homepage for fast information requests in the areas of sales, support, and other topics.

Give it a try and see for yourself. We welcome your comments and suggestions for improvements and enhancements to make your visit to our website a worthwhile experience.

At Cascade Mfg Co our mission is to provide products to make construction better. We also want to make the attainment of knowledge easier.

In the interest of a little computer humor, we hope you enjoy the following:

Waiting on a long line

The checkout line at the hardware store was getting longer and longer as the clerk labored to get the new cash register to cooperate.

At one point she wailed "Oh no, NOW what do I do? It just rang up sixty-four thousand, five hundred seventy four dollars in sales tax on a ten-dollar sale!"

Surprisingly, the customers in front of me didn't seem too upset by the delay.

Some even chuckled sympathetically. It wasn't until I got near the front of the line that I saw the neatly hand-lettered sign in front of the register: WE ARE CURRENTLY DOING BATTLE WITH OUR NEW COMPUTER FOR CONTROL OF THE STORE---WE APPRECIATE YOUR PATIENCE.
